CURREY CREEK WORSHIP

WORSHIP & LEAD

I started leading worship while in student ministry. I was in middle school and our youth group needed someone to lead the songs. At the time I played bass and was “voluntold” to learn guitar and start singing. So, I learned acoustic in a month and sheepishly began to lead in worship. I was scared. What did it for me is that I had men to look up to, men who along the way poured into me and developed me. From these men I learned, and I fell in love with corporate worship. I will always remember my adult worship leader back home in Brenham, TX. He was an old country cowboy who, with a sweet smile and love in his eyes pushed me to passionately hone my skills and fall more in love with Christ. Men like him showed me what it was to be an authentic worship leader, and it set my heart on fire.

In my office I have a big whiteboard. On the top corner I have written 1 Timothy 2:8, “I desire then that in every place the men should pray, lifting holy hands without anger or quarreling.” This passage means a lot to me, it influences the way I operate as a Worship Pastor. Daily I pray for the men of our church, whom God has given great responsibility. I pray that we can be Biblical examples in our home and that we raise up strong leaders. To be a leader, one has to be a strong worshiper in every aspect of our lives. I pray that we do not forsake the Sunday morning gathering (Heb 10:25).

It is my heart’s desire that the whole church can be moved by the power of the Gospel and that our affections to be stirred during a corporate worship setting and that we would not be afraid to express ourselves as seen in 1 Timothy. This can only happen if our affections are stirred by the Word of God. It is important that men be able to lead in this way. For some of us that is easier than others but what I do ask is this, “What kind of example are you setting for your family?” It is my desire for wives and children to look at men and be inspired to fall more in love with Christ.

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. - Hebrews 10:24-25

Never would have thought I would have the privilege to be where I am at now, at such a sweet church with sweet people and sweet families. I am blessed to lead you in worship. Thank you for trusting me. It is my desire to lead you and your family in holding fast to the profession of our faith and to sing out the Gospel message, drawing you into a deeper relationship with Christ.

“Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful.” Hebrews 10:23

KIDS & STUDENTS

As a Family Worship Coordinator, I have the privilege to oversee worship in our children and student ministries. This exposes me to a multitude of ages and different generations within our church body who all have unique needs as they are in different seasons of life. It also helps me get to know the families in our church as well as help parents walk alongside their children in discipleship. This is the very best part of what I do.

Our heart is to pour into our Creek Kids and our Upstream students. We do this by teaching them the importance of the Gospel and what it means to exalt God and worship him in spirit and truth. Along with that, we also give students the opportunity to serve on our worship teams. We build up worship leaders and musicians to grow in their gifts to use for the glory of God and to serve their very own peers. We desire students to understand that the heart of serving the family of God in this way always comes from a heart that worships and loves God and his family he has established.

When we gather in Creek Kids and student ministry, as well as our very own homes, our worship as a church family never ceases. He has gifted us not only with himself, but with each other. And whether it’s Creek Kids, Upstream, or Sunday morning, we always come together as a genuine family.

Ephesians 2:19: “...you are no longer strangers and aliens, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God,”.
